Dear Hiring Manager,

I'm writing to express my interest in the Software Developer position at your company. With two years of hands-on experience building secure, scalable web applications and a strong foundation in both software development and cybersecurity, I'm eager to bring my technical skills and problem-solving mindset to a fast-moving startup environment.

In my current role at TechSecure Ltd, I design and implement full-stack web applications using Python, React, and Flask, while ensuring strong data protection and performance optimization. Previously, at CodeWave Solutions, I collaborated closely with cross-functional teams to develop internal tools, manage databases, and refine deployment processes in AWS and Azure environments. These experiences have strengthened my ability to balance creativity with technical precision.

I'm particularly drawn to startup environments because they reward initiative and innovation — two traits I pride myself on. Whether contributing to backend development, improving system security, or helping refine user-facing features, I'm always eager to learn quickly and contribute to meaningful projects.

I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my skills in secure coding, agile development, and cloud-based systems can contribute to your team's success. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Kind regards,

Mohamed Farah
